

Main Clauses

Highlight or underline the main clause and the subordinate clause in each sentence. Use one colour for main clause and a different one for the subordinate clause.

Remember: Look for the subordinating conjunction (the type of connective we use with subordinate clauses). They go at the beginning of a subordinate clause.

Colour Key:

Main clause

Subordinate clause

The tiger has stripes because it provides camouflage.

She was being very stealthy while she was hunting.